

Meat or Poultry Processing Facility Licensing Guide

The Kansas Department of Agriculture (KDA) is devoted to the total support of agriculture in Kansas. While we must fulfill our statutory obligations, the department is dedicated to providing support and assistance to make Kansas farms, ranches and agribusinesses successful and help them grow if that is their desire. We also encourage more farms, ranches and other agriculture businesses to expand in or relocate to Kansas. This checklist will help guide you through various resources and requirements for opening and operating a typical Kansas meat or poultry processing facility. In addition to license requirements by KDA, other Kansas agencies — as well as local or federal government agencies — may have regulatory requirements to follow. Contact your local planning authority to ensure you follow all local business development laws, rules, regulations and guidelines. This guide is designed to assist you as you work to build and operate a successful meat or poultry processing facility in Kansas.

	U.S. Department of Agriculture — Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS) www.fsis.usda.gov	Meat or poultry products produced under federal inspection can be sold within and outside Kansas, including international markets . For requirements for federal inspection, see the USDA Food Safety Inspection Service website .
	Department of Agriculture — Weights and Measures www.agriculture.ks.gov	No license is needed from the KDA Weights and Measures Program. Any business with a weighing or measuring device (e.g., scales, wholesale fuel meters, fertilizer meters, oil meters, grain moisture meters, electric car chargers, milk meters, etc.) must hire a licensed service company to place the device in service with the Kansas Department of Agriculture before the device may be used in commercial transactions. The businesses must hire a licensed service company to inspect and test the commercial devices once annually, and any time additional maintenance, repairs, adjustments and calibrations are made throughout the year if the devices are used to determine the cost of any transaction.  Examples include scales at grocery stores, restaurants, hardware stores, nurseries, seed dealers, etc. Examples of meters include meters to dispense propane, vehicle mounted meters for fuel delivery, fertilizer meters at agronomy centers, water meters in grocery stores for sale of bottled water, etc. For more information, visit the KDA Weights and Measures Program webpage or call 785-564-6681. 	Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) — Bureau of Waste Management www.kdheks.gov	A meat processing facility is required to dispose of waste. There are several options for disposal through a solid waste processing facility, incineration (KDHE Bureau of Air) or biological decomposition (composting). If a composting facility is less than one-half acre, registering the operation with KDHE Bureau of Waste Management is all that is required. A permit is required if it is more than one-half acre. An application for approval must be obtained to apply organic waste to land. Washwater disposal arrangements may need to be made through a local waste treatment plant if the facility is not composting liquid nor the land applying it through the Beneficial Use-Land Application Program. For additional information and training on composting processing wastes, contact KDHE Bureau of Waste Management at 785-296-2751.	Annually; Prior to composting or land application
